The majestic history of the island starts at the Neolithic Times while the most well-known period during the Bronze Age developed the Minoan Civilization. The first palaces built in Knossos, Phaistos, Malia and Zakros in around 1950 BC. After 1500 BC many invaders conquered the island such as the Acheans, the Dorians, the Romans, the Byzantines, the Arabs, the Venetians and finally the Ottomans who maintain their occupation until 1897.

In 1913 the island officially unified with Greece after the independence negotiated by the great statesman Eleftherios Venizelos.

Since the ancient times the island has been associated with the most admired myths and legends. The Olympian god Zeus according to mythology established the hospitality spirit since Crete is considered the motherland of the Xenion Zeus.
